

Confederation Day To Be Celebrated At Grande Prairie

Wheat in the Grande Prairie district is now in shotblade and some headed out.

Timely Hints From the Beaverlodge Sub-Station

By W. D. Blair

"IT IS A PLEASURE AS WELL AS A DUTY TO SERVE"

"Blade with" of grain, locally ascribed to "an invisible bug," is reported from the Fort St. John district.

There is a deal of difference in the point of view. Some years ago, in drafting an annual report, the Beaverlodge sub-station reported "regretted" that dandelions had been too few. The regrets were deleted from the manuscript, but the dandelions have accepted the station's implied invitation.

Plume-like tufts of green growth nodding on the ends of shaggy stalks tell the story of winter hardship. The tips had been covered with earth and these leafed out. The lower part of the cane bowed up and was uncovered so that the buds on this part were killed, doubtless by the cold weather that occurred in early winter when the ground was bare.

Moisture confined to the upper six inches of soil is soon licked up in summer by evaporation and plant requirements. Moisture reaching the second six inches is mainly conserved for plant growth, though rather readily exhausted. Moisture stored in the second foot or lower is pretty well secured for the use of crops and decidedly effective in tiding them over a dry spell. Few so-called heavy rains percolate as deeply as people suppose. One and a sixth inches precipitated during the night of June 15 moistened leaves and soil to eight inches down. Plenty more rain followed, of course.

One northern farmers' club has already endorsed the resolution of the General Council of Associated Peace River Boards of Trade appealing for more humane live stock shipping conditions. Water troughs and feed racks in all cars for cattle and horses, compulsory watering of stock likely to be detained in cars more than 24 hours, and a brief rail ride to Edmonton for all classes of stock are called for. A weekly stock train picking up one truck, say, from Dawson Creek to Wembling, and the next week from that point on, each train being filled out with grain cars, should be a decided improvement.

Any Day is Visiting Day

"May we come to the farm any time or do you have special days?"—G.D., Beaverlodge, Alta.

Ans.: While a cereal field day, to be addressed by Dr. L. H. Newman, Dominion Canadian, is contemplated for August, and while there may be one or two other such glad events during the present summer, no one need wait for these. Of course the staff cannot always give individual visitors as much time as I would like, for there is not enough of it, but that does not prevent people from driving in and looking around. Obviously special attention can be paid to one person alone. But one or a hundred are welcome at any time. We are here to serve. Only please do not expect an escort on Sundays. One must get away from his work some time and what is a change to the visitor is an everyday thing to the staff.

Fungus Disease on Saskatoons

A Saskatoon hedge planted six years ago with the fruit turns black and brown gummy substance exudes. Presently the color changes to a greyish-white color. Fungus seems healthy. One neighbor had a little of his last year but, nevertheless, got a good crop of fruit.—J.H.L., Sexsmith, Alta.

Ans.: The day after J.H.L. brought a sample to the Sub-Station office. Examination of a row of white Saskatoons showed no signs of fruiting. The fruiting, although the common Saskatoons on other parts of the premises appeared normal. At one suggestion J.H.L. had already forwarded a specimen to the Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology, Edmonton, Alta. and Dr. W. C. Broadfoot thus replied:

"The berries are infected with a fungus disease caused by Monilia anelachneria. The effuse, whitish or grey mould-like growth on the berries is a mass of minute spores of the fungus. In some seasons the leaves are also badly blighted."

"No control measures have been recommended, and there isn't much that can be done about it. The next year's crop. I would suggest the following control for next year if you have a small plantation: Dilute quart of liquid lime-sulphur or 50 gallons of water. Apply the first spray any time before the blossoms or back open; the second spray just before the blossoms fall, beginning when about two-thirds of them are off; the third spray about three days after the time of the second application; and a fourth spray if it has been a wet spring, just when the fruits begin to color."

Spruce Sawfly

Spruce trees the last two years have been badly eaten by a green and brown striped worm about three quarters of an inch long. Last summer, before we realized that they had literally stripped the needles off all the top branches and I am afraid another trimming like that will kill them entirely.—F.A., Berwyn, Alta.

Ans.: Without doubt these are the spruce sawfly and it is certainly desirable that one either spray or dust the trees with Paris green whenever these insects are seen in a considerable number. There would not be very much advantage in trying to spray except when the insects are present. I believe the better method would be to spray with a knapsack sprayer, but poison dusts might be applied if the trees were not more than ten feet high. The bag could be attached to the end of a fairly long pole and jarred over the tops of the trees on a day when there was very little wind.—(Prof.) J.H.L.

Worms on Hollyhock Roots

Three lovely hollyhocks I had last year began to grow again this spring, then died down, so I pulled one up and found the center of the root was away with little worms that resembled maggots.—(Mrs.) W.S., Kinuso, Alta.

Ans.: Though the hollyhock maggots will eat up at times when treated as a summer-sown biennial, it is a very undesirable pest. The maggots possibly these roots had died or been greatly weakened, in which case the worms may have been feeding on decayed tissue rather than being the cause of death. A couple of years ago we found such worms on the root of a related plant, Lunaria. Prof. E. H. Birkenhead is inclined to agree with this view, he being unaware of any insect which might attack healthy hollyhock roots in the manner described. In such cases specimens should always be sent for identification.

Insect on Rhubarb

Insects enclosed were eating rhubarb.—(Mrs.) G.S., Enids, Alta.

Ans.: This is a species of plant bug (received in June) very closely related to the tarnished plant bug of the East. It has similar habits and is practically immune from control since it is a very strong flier and can be killed only by direct setting with a contact insecticide. In any case it will do so little damage to the rhubarb that it is hardly worth bothering about.

ALONG THE WAPITI

By Junius

LOOKS LIKE A BOUNTIFUL HARVEST

All crops and garden stuff doing fine. Splendid stands of wheat and oats. It looks like a bountiful harvest of hay as well. But the rain it started Monday, June 15, at 9:30 a.m. rained away, then later the most of the day but gave us a regular deluge all Monday night. Slight damage to some vegetables due to sitting wetting away. Everything looks like a bountiful harvest and here is one who is fervently praying for the same.

THE BEST YET

A. K. Watts drove a week ago, in the nature of a farewell, was the best yet. Big crowd, good cars, and Jack Watts along with the Robertson Bros. of Wembling furnished the snappiest music yet. They all drifted to their homes about 2 a.m.

A. K. and Mrs. Watts and children will be on the ocean now and here is wishing them a safe journey and a happy return.

TO TAKE BIG PARTY TO JASPER

Best outcome is to take a large party to Jasper the end of the month, one count, a doctor, and ten college students. In all there will be fifteen in the party. Best will use 40 heavy horses. That's showing them.

HOW HAPPINESS COMES

We had a very pleasant Sunday last with visitors from the Prairie. One again, I enjoyed it.

You may think the reason for my enjoyment was that they took my wife back with them. No. To quote John Barrymore: "After standing around looking for contentment for years, I suddenly learned that you cannot find it by hunting furiously for it. Happiness comes to you when a door you didn't know you had left open."

"The wife and our youngest spent a couple of days in the Prairie this week."

Mrs. Woods is some better again we are glad to say.

Young McCulloch is helping Ed Woods brushing.

Bill Davies is again busy brushing.

Jack Stevenson and Joe Lewis were visiting here last week. Jack brought down four horses for sale.

Contributions to you, J. B. Your initiative in looking for this Exhibit at Vancouver started them all going, and you had an editorial article in your paper re exhibit months ago, before anyone seemed to realize what an exhibit might mean. Again, good for you, and may the exhibit be a good one is the wish of all here.

"An after-dinner speaker should be like a woman's skirt—long enough to cover the subject, but short enough to be interesting."—Literary Digest.

We see by The Tribune that Jack McIntosh of Dimdale has changed his name to McTavish. Well, that's a good Scotch name, too.

Eddie Carter says: "Marriage is not a word, it's a sentence. Who agrees?"

But Walter Winchell has the cream of all. He says: "Hollywood floods to pictures, and not enough actors."

Mr. Ed Woods was a visitor at Mr. and Mrs. Bailey's on Wednesday.

WAPITI NEWS

EDMONTON, June 18.—Mr. Nels Remington paid a brief visit to his hometown the other day.

We are glad to be able to report the Misses Kibbey and Crystal Kibbey and their party have now moved back into their home town and hope they have come to stay.

Mr. Hans Berg returned to his home on Thursday from Hualien, where he has been working for the past two months.

I. V. MACKLIN GUEST SPEAKER

Mr. I. V. Macklin was the speaker of the evening last Saturday night at the schoolhouse. Unfortunately, Mr. Macklin was unable to tell us anything about the majority of us didn't already know. We are only too well aware of the state of our present-day government, under-graded cattle and horse, etc., but the question is how are we going to better ourselves?

After the speaker had concluded his remarks Mr. Macklin was presented with a bouquet of flowers by the ladies of the community. He was looking for his wife in the crowd.

Who was it had there was going to be a day summer? We are looking for his wife in the crowd.

SEEN AND HEARD AT THE CROSSROADS

A couple of very smart people during Monday night's storm planning on getting their tickets for a journey home—very suddenly.

Carl Berg being very generous with his pie to the more unfortunate ones. Alphonse sitting with a very bluish look on his face. He had managed to get both pie and the girl.

ELM WORTH NEWS

ELM WORTH, June 18.—We heard that school inspector Walker visited the Elmworth schools last week. We hope for a solid report.

Mrs. F. Stier was pleasantly surprised to find a few friends last Tuesday, the occasion being her birthday. She was presented with some lovely daisies. Many happy returns of the day.

MANY HEAR M.L.A.

The social credit meeting at Hignay last Saturday was well attended. People coming for miles around to hear W. Sharpe, M.L.A.

W. A. HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

A W. A. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. W. Walker last Thursday. Present were Mr. and Mrs. T. Williams of Hualien. There is to be a special meeting called at a later date to decide about holding a sale at Rio Grande on July 1. A delicious lunch was enjoyed by all.

OUT OF OUR WAY

After examining the pictures before Ed and Ed were away. How did it look?

Made in the air—Vio singing at Hignay.

Smiths visiting at the Ducharme's Sunday.

Doris away for a month at the Dalgleish home.

Jack being another mare and not Charlie also being a mare and not Babe dragging the ball diamond and then getting a soaking.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Pondichuk at Grants on Sunday. Come again.

Rain fell in sheets and torrents here on Monday night. What a bright outlook.

Rhoda on the meat wagon going south.

Children with serious faces. School came in full swing.

LONDON, June 17.—Germany has begun to fortify Heligoland Island and already has heavily armed other islands off the entrance to the canal basin at Wilhelmshaven. Heligoland was demilitarized by the Versailles Treaty.

With the Boy Scouts

Ten thousand young trees were planted this spring by Galt, Ontario, Scouts on their newly acquired camp site, Peachaville, near Drumbo.

Sea Scouts Build a 27-Foot Whaler

The building of a 27-foot whaler has been completed by the River Sea Scouts of the Pointe Claire Yacht Club, Montreal. The boat, probably the largest ever turned out by Canadian Sea Scouts, was constructed during the past winter, under direction of a professional builder. It is a sturdy, money craft, and will permit of lengthy training cruises.

Saddling of Moose River a Scout Leader

Alfred Saddling of the Moose River Scout Troop, was formerly Assistant Scoutmaster of the 1st Queenston Scout Troop. He was a man who could meet any emergency," says a Queenston correspondent in the "Niagara Falls Review." The fighting of the smoke signal fire which first informed rescuers that the men were still alive was attributed to Saddling and his Scout training.

A Coast Guard Station For Hamilton Sea Scouts

Hamilton Ont. Sea Scouts will very shortly become the happy possessors of a coast guard station, in the form of an old excursion steamer, the old "Brookville," permanently anchored at La Salle wharf through the co-operation of the Hamilton Harbor Commission.

The boat will be equipped with telescopes and wireless, to be used in discovering and assisting with missing boats. The "Brookville" formerly plied between the city of that name and a summer resort, Bateman Bay.

Three Rivers Scouts' Folklore Festival

A successful folklore festival which included the singing of old river songs at the St. Maurice River Valley, was a success of the Jacques Cartier Troop of Catholic Scouts of Three Rivers, Que. In preparation for the festival a party of older scouts was sent up the river to interview old

During the camp the Scouts were addressed by Dr. W. D. Smith, M.L.A., who was in what was the last of the 1936 "legion" or camp badge. Upon leaving the boys were handed a souvenir packet of trees to plant at home and for their troops a buttoned seal plaque bearing the Scout emblem and the legend, "Boy Scout Forestry Camp, Angus, 1936."

The Boy Scout reforestation project was launched under the direction of Arthur H. Richardson, of the Provincial Department of Lands and Forests, as a practical way of interesting Scouts in reforestation. Since 1923, when shortage of provincial funds would have interrupted the project, the Scouts have paid their own way at the camps. An interesting fact is that the cost, in so far as the interest of the boys in afforestation has been to attend that it has been necessary to limit the number each year to approximately a hundred.

An enjoyable evening was spent by all and was well attended by friends and school chums of the bride, who spent many years here, and the many gifts presented showed the esteem in which she was held.

CROPS FLOURISHING

Lumber and fittings from the old St. Peter's mission at Grosventre, abandoned in 1902, are being used in the erection of the new church.

BISHOP BRINGS GIFTS AND GIVES BEAUTIFUL TALK
The longest day of the year, Sunday, June 21, brought a happy surprise to fifty pupils and teachers of the Catholic Sunday School at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Randall when Bishop Severien, Peace River, arrived unexpectedly just in time for Sunday school. The Bishop came bearing gifts like a Santa Claus, beautiful picture books, S. S. cards, and papers and stories of Christ's life for the children; but best of all was the beautiful talk he gave them. They will never forget the story of the Eagle and the Weasel and of Little Tommy, who wouldn't tell a lie, but bravely confessed to an accidental whistle in school time.

After the Bishop's address, the primary class, numbering twenty-seven, and the intermediate class of twelve pupils had their regular lesson with the teachers under the spruce trees on the lawn, while Bishop Severien taught the senior class—The Life of Peter and his friends—the Fishers of Men. Most impressive was the Bishop's warning that in drawing people to Christ we must go, like the fishermen quietly and with good bait, lest the fish may not be frightened away.

The Bishop's sincere message of love and good will was equally beautiful in Westminster Abbey as in a plain log cabin in the woods where never been inside a church and many without even the privilege of a school.

It was agreed that membership tickets be sold at 25 cents each, that all branches of sport and entertainment be covered by the association; that both young and old be entitled to the same privileges, making this association a full community club, with a definite aim in view.

It was decided that the association would play a sports day this year, on Wednesday, July 15.

We have recently been talking to some of the people from Kesteven, who said that they had wondered where the Little Smoky news came from. Well, it comes from a small settlement of about one hundred people eight miles from the Little Smoky bridge which crosses the Little Smoky twenty miles west of High Prairie.

GOING AND RETURNING
The writer of these items recently visited across the river near Valleyview and on the way she met a man driving out of the country with his four children, never to return, he said, after seventeen years residence. And further on she had the pleasure of visiting with some people who were driving to the "Block" and hoped to never leave. So considering everything, isn't it a funny old world?

Grande Prairie and District Flying Club

THE FLYING FLEA
Translated by the Air League of the British Empire from the French of Henri Mignet

It is still daylight, I feel quite warm now. The wind is going down, and it is quite calm. What a fine evening! I fly a little more. I empty a can of petrol into the tank. I take off a few turns around the field. I make a few turns around the field. I make a few turns around the field.

The sky is empty. Even the stars are not flying. If a hawk gets up it settles very quickly again, because the wind takes it backwards. This is exciting day for the birds.

"RED" RYAN KILLED BY POLICE IN HOLD-UP AT SARNIA

Norman F. ("Red") Ryan, a "reformed" man who was paroled a year ago after serving 11 years of a life sentence for bank robbery, met his death in Sarnia when he attempted to hold-up the Ontario Government Liquor Store. After holding up the store Ryan and his companion, Checkley, were unable to get away from the police, and Ryan killed Constable John Lewis before he himself was mortally wounded. Checkley died also from the wounds he received in the gun battle with the police. At the top, left, is a recent picture of Ryan, while at the top, right, he is speaking to Senator O'Connor (right) shortly after the former had been released on parole when he was considered the best example in Canada of a reformed criminal. Below are some of the dangerous weapons found by Toronto police while searching Ryan's garage—eight sticks of dynamite, a bottle containing 18 ounces of nitroglycerine and four quart sealers filled with fuses and caps.

DEATH ENDS PACT OF SIX FOLLIES BEAUTIES

Fulfilling a pact made 20 years ago by six Follies girls, Katherine Lambert, only surviving member of the group, is pictured as she dines alone in a New York cafe. When the six beauties started out on the road to stage fame they agreed to meet in 20 years to discuss their adventures and success. Of the five others, Olive Thomas ended her life by taking poison in Paris; Lilyan Tashman, who achieved screen fame, died; Martha Mansfield, also a film star, was burned to death; Fifi Allen died destitute although she had once married a millionaire, and Bessie Poole died following a disturbance in a night club. Thus fate ended their 20-year pact.

LANDON BACKERS MARSHAL FORCES

Chief among those responsible for the support accorded Governor Alf Landon of Kansas for the Republican presidential nomination was William Allen White, noted publisher, left, and Will T. # Happy Days Are Here Again

G. P. Business Men Have Many Suggestions How To Enjoy Them

Yes, these wonderful Peace River summer days really are "happy days here again" and they surely have that outdoor urge; make everyone plan to go places and do things. Over the roads spin hundreds of cars, bearing recreation seekers to lake resort and sports grounds. They pass fields of grain that are a joy to behold, for Peace River is growing a crop that promises to be a bumper one. Truly, happy days are here again.

And the business men of Grande Prairie are prepared to do their part to make these happy days even more joyous ones for you. They are ready to assist you with your plans for a real, enjoyable summer. Visit their places of business, make your needs known—you will be surprised how quickly their stocks are placed with their efficient service.

Those things you need for camp—

Grande Prairie stores have them. That new automobile you planned to get for such a summer as this, why not set it in Grande Prairie garages have splendid 1936 models in their show rooms. Or perhaps the car you have will be all right when overhauled. Let Grande Prairie mechanics fix it—and it will be as good as new.

The women folk will find airy-fairy dresses in the stores selling ladies' wear—cool, beautiful creations that are the very spirit of summer. Men, too, can get the "cool" both figuratively and really, if they patronize the up-to-date stores that sell men's clothes and furnishings.

Then there are the many modern conveniences that make summer a joy even to those who have to stay at home. In town the many electrical appliances are a real boon. No hot fire, is now necessary to prepare meals. An electric range will cook a large dinner, and the kitchen will be cooler and cooler. Electric irons, washers, etc., have taken both labor and heat from women's lives and put happiness there.

"Happy days are here again"—why not enjoy them while you may?
